

NEGOTIATION MASTERY CIRCLE

New Negotiation Monthly Teleclass Series. Combining best practices with business expertise.

I) Why is this important to you and your future?

Consider your personal and business relationships: Do you sometimes feel like you are not getting what you need or that you have to settle for less? Do you dislike saying no? Is your organization less effective than you want it to be? We all negotiate—every day. Why do so many of us ignore the importance of our negotiations in our life, work, organizations and community? All Savage Negotiation Mastery Circle (NMC) programs are designed to build on the strengths that you bring to each negotiation and to create the results you want. This teleclass is meant to be a convenient, inexpensive and high-level summary program to bring your negotiation awareness, skills and successes to greater outcomes for you and your organization. This program may be supplemented with our other programs or used as negotiations primer. Awareness and change happens over time; that is why we connect 8 times and practice often.

II) What is a Negotiation Monthly Teleclass Series?

Additionally, a private one-on-one coaching session is included. You will also receive pre-session materials, reading suggestions and recommended resources by email a week in advance of each teleclass.
